CONSCIOUS

Higher performance is within reach.
Conscious Leadership accelerates
your ability to operate in a perpetually disruptive and changing world.

What is Conscious Leadership?

Conscious Leadership is focusing awareness on yourself, your relationships and your environment, and then taking deliberate action that has the greatest impact on your teams and organization. It is about proactively making change work for you in real time rather than reactively letting change happen to you.

Why Do We Need Conscious Leadership?

Grounded Leadership is the foundation to operate in a disruptive and accelerating world. Conscious Leadership is the accelerator.

Our world is changing faster than our ability to adapt. With increasing speed, uncertainty, complexity, globalization, competition and increased digitalization – these disruptive forces are having a real impact on people, organizations, and communities. Many leaders are unprepared for this acceleration. We act on autopilot as new challenges confront us. We face uncertainty with fear and mistrust. Stress and burnout are pervasive as many of us do not perform to our highest potential.

In the midst of all this turmoil, many leaders still believe that being smart is the best path to success, but being the smartest person in the room doesn't work anymore.

It simply gets in the way of adapting to the future. In this age of acceleration, we need a new approach to leadership. Being conscious is the new smart. Conscious people bring their best selves to the table, and challenge others to redefine what it means to be successful.

Three Key Components of Conscious Leadership

Conscious Leaders Build Healthy Companies

The more conscious you are, the faster you adapt and the higher you perform.

Bob Rosen, Ph.D

CEO of Healthy Companies and Best-selling Author

“Conscious is your personal roadmap through transformation to help you adapt and accelerate into the future to create sustainable change for yourself and your business.”

The Conscious Leadership Experience

Conscious Leadership provides the capabilities leaders need to adapt to a disruptive and accelerating business environment and lead themselves and others effectively through change. The first workshop ‘Conscious Leadership: Building the Foundation’ introduces the three Essentials: Four Channels to Accelerate Change, Personal Accelerators and Hijackers, and the Three Circles of Influence. The following workshops extend the learning to take a deep dive into the four key practices to becoming a Conscious Leader: Go Deep, Get Real, Think Big, & Step Up.

Get Real is about facing the reality of your situation and how to reframe your discomfort with change and uncertainty to be more effective in a constantly changing business environment.

Go Deep is about discovering your inner self to effectively adapt and lead through change.

Think Big is looking outside yourself at the greater landscape to see the possibilities to become more expansive and adaptive in a complex world.

Step Up is about boldly and intentionally taking responsibility and stretching yourself and others to reach their highest potential and performance.

Workshop 1 – Conscious Leadership: Building the Foundation

Participants will:

1. Understand why Conscious Leadership is needed in today’s disruptive business environment
2. Be introduced to the 4 practices of Conscious Leadership
3. Identify the personal accelerators that push them forward and the hijackers that keep them from leading effectively

In the following workshops participants will deepen their understanding and expand their skills in each of the four practices to become more Conscious leaders.

Workshop 2 – Get Real

Participants will:

1. Learn to embrace change as a critical first step in adapting to a changing world
2. Understand how to surface, examine and challenge assumptions that may be holding them back

Workshop 3 – Go Deep

Participants will:

1. Understand and better manage their fear response to focus on positive emotions
2. Gain insight into their most common thinking errors and learn to overcome them

Workshop 4 – Think Big and Step Up

Participants will:

1. Learn to distinguish between problems and paradoxes, and how to better deal with both
2. Practice both/and thinking by applying learning to a real leadership challenge
3. Gain insight into how to better manage their anxiety for greater effectiveness
4. Understand how to lead with constructive impatience to help energize their teams

The Transformational Leadership Series

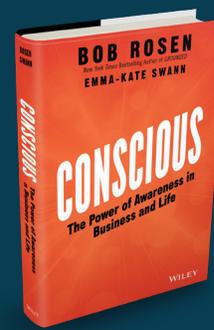

Developing Change Leaders at all Levels

A New Approach

We are entering an age of continuous disruption and acceleration, outpacing our ability to cope with uncertainty and change. People and organizations are at risk for being left behind. Many of us are unprepared for this personal and organizational transformation. This requires a new approach to leading ourselves, teams, and organizations.

Our Transformational Leadership Series helps to develop the internal and external skills that enable leaders to operate effectively in an increasingly disruptive and accelerating environment.

Being smart gets you in the room. Being aware keeps you there.

This groundbreaking book, by New York Times Best-Selling author and CEO advisor, Dr. Bob Rosen, dispels the belief that everyone should strive to be the smartest, toughest, richest, most attractive person in the room. The idea that these aspirations lead to success and happiness is simply not true today. Many of us experience the opposite chasing these goals. The reason is we get hijacked by our irrational fears and biases, undermine our own potential, and end up casting shadows on ourselves and the people around us.

The cost of unaware people is too high to pay. Especially when the antidote, becoming more conscious, costs little but returns exponentially. The book unveils four powerful lessons for how to put your conscious mind to work: Go Deep, Think Big, Get Real, and Step Up.

By providing modern-day practical advice, the book guides the reader towards a deeper understanding of themselves, how to cope and benefit from the speed, uncertainty, and acceleration of change, and how to reach to their highest potential.
